GENERAL OFFICER PRE-DEPLOYMENT ACCULTURATION COURSE

The Air Force Culture and Language Center offers the General Officer Pre-Deployment Acculturation Course to prepare senior Air Force leaders for key overseas assignments. General Officers and Senior Executives are identified for GOPAC by the Component Numbered Air Forces. Headquarters Air Force, Senior Leader Management schedules attendance.

In Fall 2009, the Commander of the International Security Assistance Force requested that the Air Force Chief of Staff ensure Air Force General Officers receive thorough preparation in language and culture prior to deployment. In response, the Air Force Culture and Language Center developed GOPAC, which has since been delivered to dozens of Air Force senior leaders en route to Afghanistan, Pakistan, Iraq, Japan, Qatar, UAE and elsewhere.

GOPAC provides 30 hours of formal instruction (15 hours on language and 15 hours on culture/region) over five days, with an option for additional post-classroom learning. Significant self-study is required during non-classroom hours. Language instruction is conducted by trained and certified Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center personnel. The culture/region curriculum is designed and delivered by AFCLC's team of in-house faculty experts, with assistance from colleagues from across Air University, DLIFLC and external organizations.

As a result of GOPAC, officers will possess limited functional foreign language proficiency, so they can:

- Satisfy minimum courtesy requirements/simple face-to-face conversations on familiar topics
- Produce limited continuous discourse, but only with prepared and rehearsed material
- Ask for help/verify comprehension of native speech, since misunderstandings will be frequent

General officers will also have a solid understanding of cultural issues/regional, and with minimal guidance can:

- Apply foundational cultural and regional concepts (e.g., types of regions and cultural domains, concepts & dimensions) to the mission
- Take the perspective of others and project second/third-order effects of own and others' behaviors
- Apply the basic skills of cross-cultural communication (inter-personal, organizational and use of a translator), relations (inter-personal and -organizational) and negotiation
